Special NALA Promotion For Affiliate Members

A special $25 rate for a one-year subscription to Facts & Findings is being offered to members of NALA affiliated associations to encourage sustained membership in the affiliated associations and to introduce the advantages of individual membership in NALA.

Individual members of NALA already enjoy subscriptions to Facts & Findings included in their annual dues as well as discounts on many CLE programs and other benefits. This special promotional rate for affiliate members is a significant savings over the regular $35 for non-members. The discounted rate will be continued as long as recipients remain members of their affiliates.

If subscription rates increase in the future, members of the affiliated associations still will receive a 30 percent discount off published rates. Should recipients of this special promotion decide to become individual members of NALA, they will be extended a $25 credit toward their first year of dues.

Procedural details for this special promotion will be provided to the affiliated associations and NALA will take care of sending renewal notices to the subscribers and managing the mailing list.

Facts & Findings is widely regarded as the premier national publication for paralegals. The full-color bimonthly magazine features articles on a variety of topics of interest to all legal professionals and to many business people as well. Authors include paralegals, attorneys, judges, and educators.
